Revelation - Introduction

[1] The revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him to show to his servants the things that must soon take place. He made it known by sending his angel to his servant John, [2] who bore witness to the word of God and to the testimony of Jesus Christ, even to all that he saw. [3] Blessed is the one who reads aloud the words of this prophecy, and blessed are those who hear, and who keep what is written in it, for the time is near.

Sermon Outline:

1. Author of Revelation
2. Date of Revelation
3. Approaches to Interpret Revelation

Life Group Leader Notes:

- What is your experience with the book of Revelation or end-time prophecy? Have you ever done a study of this book? What did you learn from that experience?
- Have your views on the book of Revelation ever changed, or have you only ever held one view? If they have changed, describe that process. If they have never changed, do you think it would be difficult to consider a new interpretation? Do you think there could be several faithful, biblical, evangelical approaches to the book? (If not, then why do none of Scott's commentaries agree).
- What are a few things that you hope to take away from this study of Revelation?
- If someone who had never read the Bible asked you what the book of Revelation is about, what would you say? How would you describe it?
- What are some of the main challenges of studying Revelation? Have these kept you away from the book in the past? Do you think you can overcome these challenges this year?
- What are some of the main benefits of studying Revelation? Why is it important for our church to study this Apocalyptic book of the Bible?
- Pastor Scott ended the sermon by giving us the main goal of the book: we want to come away from this study more like Jesus. What kind of an attitude do you need to bring to this sermon series to make that happen? What might get in the way of achieving this goal?
- Do you regularly pray for Pastor Scott as he prepares sermons from the Bible? How can your life group encourage Pastor Scott this next year?
